

Gatemaster SYSTEMS

MORE than just point-of-sale software

> Imagine your Go-Kart facility with Gatemaster...

Imagine your customers using a "driver's license" to gain entrance to your track. A beautiful color license with photo can be printed from any register. Even after customers go home they keep your license in their wallet – essentially carrying your business card wherever they go.

Some customers setup their license account on the Internet and even place money on it. A license account, whether setup online or at your facility, can be used by customers as a "cashless" method of payment. Gatemaster will automatically apply discounts and record purchases.

At the track, your staff greets customers as they pass through turnstiles - automatically canceling tickets or charging accounts as they go through. Since regular admission tickets can be scanned and used once there is no more handing off old tickets for later use.

One more time around the track? Attendants simply scan a license with a wireless handheld while the driver sits in the car – then off they go. Nearby the track there is a touch screen kiosk where customers buy tickets or add money to their cashless account – completely taking cash control out of the hands of attendants.

There are increased sales at the snack bars as well as portable carts and kiosks. Since many are connected wirelessly, the cashless license card will work throughout the facility as easily as cash! Even video games and your redemption counter are networked in. You can place a wireless point-of-sale turnstile or operate a handheld device anywhere in your facility.

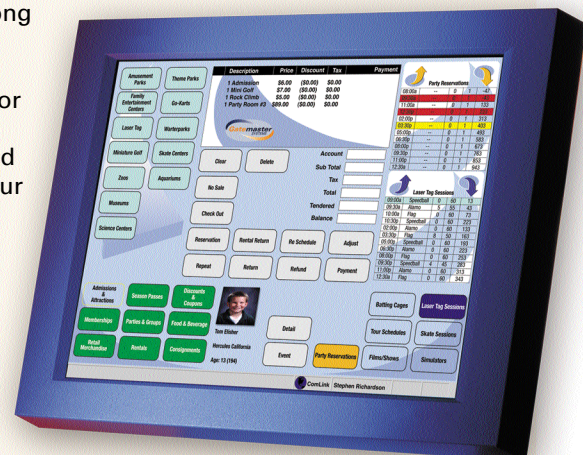

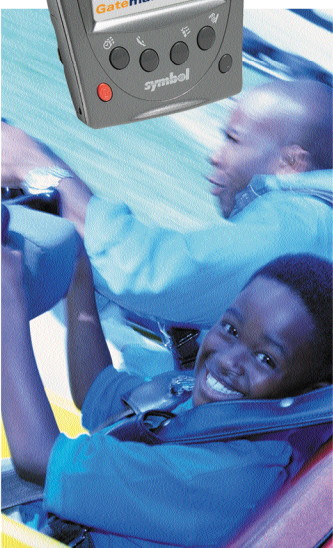

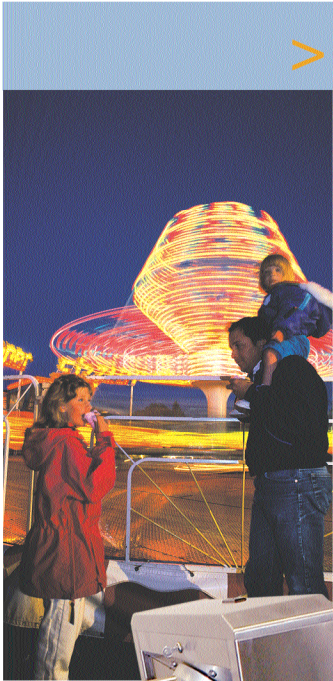

How did you ever live without Gatemaster? You know the time is right...

Ready to see how it works?

Choosing the right point-of-sale system for your facility is an important task. Relying solely on marketing kits and screen shots can never give you a true picture. Since you'll live with your decision on a daily basis for a long time - be sure it's the right one.

Let us show you exactly how Gatemaster can work for you. Call or sign up online today to schedule a free personal online demonstration. See our solutions and get your questions answered from the comfort of your office. Afterward, at your request, a price quote can quickly and easily be developed.

We welcome all of your staff to attend at the same time. You don't even need to have them all in one place to participate. All anyone needs to join is a computer with an internet connection and a phone.
